What to Do

INIA had rattled on with lively englossed in the evening news-paper, listened in.

A had rattled on with lively less goasip while Paul, appassed in the evening newspaper, listened in.

"It was a wonderful sale. Paul, and I got several spiffy bargains, because—"

He interrupted her calmiy.

"You got what?"

She paused and then laughed guiltily.
"Oh, spiffy bargains? Yes, that is an awfully silly slang it? And, really, it doesn't server expressive." Paul tildly.

The word does intrigue one so, sale added.
"I see. It must."
"You know. Paul, that there are a lot of women who pick up these words that get to be so slangy and although they were perfectly good words in the beginning, on e's friends use them so often, that presently they are just allly slang words. It's a shame to spoil nice words like fascinating used to be."

Paul stiffed a yawn.

"Yep," he said sleepily. "I heard a twist downtown the other day say that—"

"Really, Virginia; it's out?"

Rhe faced him brazenly.
"Certainly, it's out. Why, Paul Boney, that's not slang. That's being said by the very best people. It means that the thing is simply not done; out. ul looked glum.

Terribly slangy!"
"Heavens, darlin', as a speech re-Up went his eyebrows at this; in-I thought that was out long ago?

"Intrigue? Oh, no, it's wonderful that word hangs on. As a matter act, Paul, one can't quite do withcut it in ordinary conversation these days, I've tried it and falled miserably. I'm willing to give up saying a barrin is fascinating and delightful, and can get along and make myself understood without saying that somebody's tood without saying that somebody's purase in this town—but I just simply can't exist without saying intrigue." She laughed and had the grace to blush.

Through a Deluded Wives By HAZEL DEVO BATCHELOR

Judith Carlyle is a typical small-teen wife, and when Rand, her hus-band, sells his business and yoes to New York to be an artist, she refuses to adapt herself to his new life. She cherishes a hope that he may fail, but with the selling of his first pic-ture comes the conviction that he will never go back to Lynbrook Junc-tion. She is faced with a choice of going on with him or dropping by the Celebrating!

RAND went directly to Carl Ran-dolph's new studio, and the brisk walk brought back some of his earlier

He had a feeling of let-down, he wanted to forget about his work for the time being and play, and most of mood. He had wanted Judy because im, some one who could respond to his the was closest to him, because he loved but her failure to understand and ent words had driven him

Carl had a single large room in a non-housekeeping building, and when Rand arrived there were several people (22) the studio having tea. Carl was warm in his welcome, and before Rand linew it he was being introduced all around and some one was plying him with tea and sandwiches. He looked he took the cup from the profand the next moment their owner sitting down next to him.

she began, laughingly, Carlotta Young, at your service, and tell me the news."
"News?" he repeated slowly.

"Of course," she returned quickly. "I'm sure you have some news; your eyes are full of it, and you're bursting to confide in some one." Rand laughed aloud, and the girl ided quickly.

"I'm right, then?"
"Yes, you are uncasanily right. I'm like a small boy let out of school.

Oh, why that's splendid! Carl, do res hear that? Mr. Carlyle has just sold his first picture. We ought to colebrate, don't you think so?"

In a moment Carl had crossed the "That's fine, old man; you know how I feel about it." His honest eyes were full of enthusiasm, and in an instant Band was surrounded by an interested proup, all talking at once.
"Suppose we all so over to Marie's

"Suppose we all go over to Maria's for dinner." Carl suggested, when the excitement had died down, and to Band's surprise every one instantly agreed. His spirits were mounting by the minute, and his gratitude to these people who had never met him before that afternoon and were willing and easer to celebrate his success made him instantly one of them.

It wasn't until they were all seated.

It wasn't until they were all seated around a large table in Maria's restaurant that he remembered Judy, and he realized suddenly that he had never stayed away from her before; that she would be expecting him, and that he ought to let her know. But almost instantly the impulse died away and his heart hardened. Judy didn't care. His stantly the impulse died away and his beart hardened. Judy didn't care. His success meant nothing to her, and besides there was Carl, he hadn't sent any message to Lucy. Why not accept to-night as a gift from the gods? He would have to return to Judy's sullenness and disapproval soon enough, and she had refused to celebrate with him.

He turned toward Carlotta Young, se sat at his right, and in a moment swept into the gayety of the conand himself laughing and talking, and congruously the Italian food seemed ore delicious than anything he had ver eaten in his life.

While they are Carlotta gave him bits of information about the others. They

And what about you?" Rand asked by. "I think you've told me about y one else but yourself." He was

Please Tell Me By CYNTHIA

She pretended to pay no attention.

roughly. "Well, all right, honey; you intrigue me, anyway.'

And she agreed that he was a perfectly wonderful adorable husband.'

Tomorrow—Confidences

By JEAN NEWTON

"Do you know," an old philosopher drops that are responsible for it! In the same way energy, health, content, happiness are thrown away on useless resistance to other forces that are as completely beyond our con-trol. For just as we must take the rain with the sunshine, there are some things in life which we must accept without resistance and work them into

Proud of "Occultist"

Proud of "Occultist".

Dear Cynthia—Will you kindly publish the following few lines for me to say how much I appreciate "Occulists" manner in bringing that specimen of humanity that dares to wear a man's trousers and who grossly insulted that young, honest mill-worker to check in the right way? He was too much of a gentleman or he should have given him the K. O. there and then and so rid the world of one of the many insects that are unfortunately "flying" about. If Occulist wants any assistance (though I know he will not) he can rely on this old "gosiin" to give it to him.

He Took Offense

not very expressive." Paul twist downtown the other day say that—"
"You heard a what?"
"A twist." Then he grinned. "Oh. didn't you know? Flapper's got to be such a downright common word that they're calling 'em twists and twirls now."
"It hink that's vulgar."
"Well." he said sleepily. "I heard a me before, I am coming to you again. Some time ago I met a young man, Although I only cared for him as a friend. Still I liked him very much. One evening during a conversation I remarked." I love anybody who loves me."
He never came again and I have been told by a gentleman friend of his that he stayed away for that reason. Now. It's kind of expressive, though, don't you think?"
Well." he said hazily. "I don't set anybody who loves me."
Well." he said hazily. "I don't stay anybody who loves me."
Well." he said hazily. "I don't stay anybody who loves me."
Well." he said hazily. "I don't common word that they're calling hat's not slang. That's being the very best people. It means thing is simply not done; out—
"Yep," he said sleepily. "I heard a twist downtown the other day say
"You heard a what?"
"A twist." Then he grinned. "Oh. still I liked him very much. One evening during a conversation I remarked. "I love anybody who loves me."
He Took Offense

Dear Cynthia—As you have helped me before, I am coming to you again. Some time ago I met a young man, Although I only cared for him as a friend. Some time ago I met a young man, Although I only cared for him as a friend. Some time ago I met a young man, Although I only cared for him as a friend. Some time ago I met a young man, Although I only cared for him as a friend. Some time ago I met a young man Although I only cared for him as a friend. Some time ago I met a young man Although I only cared for him as a friend. Some time ago I met a young man Although I only cared for him as a friend. Some time ago I met a young man Although I only cared for him as a friend. Some time ago I met a young man Although I only cared for him as a friend. Some time ago I met a young man Althou

"Fancy! Calling a girl a twirl. I think that's perfectly outrageous! And yet you men have the impudence to accuse women of using bad words in the wrong place. or Dear Cynthia—Are there any .eai men" in this world? I can't find any. Cynthia, dear, I was going with a young man and I did not love him at first, but just as a friend. It grew into love, but when he asked me to marry him I just took it as a joke and laughed it off, as I'm only eighteen and he said ne loved me. Just as soon as he found out I loved him he has played with me like a toy. Cynthia, there is no future ahead of me, nothing but dark clouds. At night I cry myself to sleep over one who isn't worth it and wonder if he'll come back to me. When a woman loves a man she loves him forever, but a man never loves a woman like that. "Say, honey, how do you say it; ee-ther or eye-ther!

"Oh, I'm still plain Yankee on that, dear. And besides, I couldn't always remember to say it eye-ther, anyway."

He gathered her in his arms a bit never loves a woman like that.

I have a woman like that.

I have a womderful mother and a good home, but why has he left me with a broken heart? I'm hoping that no one will ever suffer like I have, and wishing you success and happiness, Cynthia dear.

A LONE STAK Why is there no future before you, dear? If you have found that this man does not love you and has been disrespectful and unkind, thank God you found him out before you married him. Put him out of your mind by doing something for other people and forgetting your sorrow. Woman's Eyes The Must-Be's-Life's Immov-

"Do you know," an old philosopher said the other day, "there are still some people who rail against the weather?"

And, come to think of it, there are so many of them that they fail even to cause comment.

Yet not all the protests of the billions of voices on this earth can stay the timest raindrop, not all the graces of all the charmers in the world can lure the sun one millionth of a degree further east or west.

Still there are people who will complain at a rainy day, who will waste energy resenting it, will actually work themselves into a spirit of opposition and be "out of sorts." Indeed, more than one man has lost his job because it rained, when he might have found a more satisfying and less expensive indoor sport to substitute for the ball game of which the weather deprived him.

All the useless discontent and freting—the precious days that are so wantonly wasted—make a moaning sea deeper than the one which holds the drops that are responsible for it!

In the same way energy, health, con-

AN ADVOCATE OF YOUTH. He's Indifferent

dancer. I didn't like him at first and we things in life which we must accept without resistance and work them into the general harmony.

No one can have everything to order. While it is wise to direct our own lives where this is possible, to leave to the waves of chance not at thing that we ourselves can pilot into the home harbor, yet even the most provident, the most deliberative of people, will meet with forces that are beyond their control, which they must take as such and make the best of. For they are life's must-be's—and they must be.

The most fortunate among us, the most contented, the happiest of us, have known these elements which we may meet but cannot conquer. And perhaps, if the truth were known, it is not because they have met them less that they are happier and more contented than others, but because they have met them less that they are happier and more contented than others, but because they have met them less that they are happier and more contented than others, but because they have met them less that they are happier and more contented than others, but because they have learned to take them for what they are, the must-be's—life's immovable forces.

Here's Silver Lining

Plus Silver Bodice!

Here's Silver Lining

Plus Silver Bodice!

Here's Silver Lining

Plus Silver Bodice!

Here's Lining

Plus Silver Bodice!

Here's Lining

Plus Silver Lining

Plus Silver Bodice!

Here's Lining

Plus Silver Bodice!

Here's Lining

Plus Silver Lining

Plus Silver Bodice!

Here's Lining

Plus Silver Bodice!

Here's Lining

Plus Silver Lining

Plus Silver Lining

Plus Silver Lining

Plus Silver Bodice!

Here's Lining

Plus Silver Bodice!

Here's Lining

Plus Silver Bodice!

Here's Lining

Plus Silver Lining

Plus Silver Bodice!

Here's Lining

Plus Silver Bodice!

Here's Lining

Plus Silver Bodice!

Here's Silver Lining

Plus Silver Bodice

think he would it it wasn't for this friend.

Ail of our friends say he still cares for me and they all say it will be all right soon. But matters seem to get worse all the time. We don't even speak now. Could you lay out a plan for me to get him back by degrees without seeming to put myself out to do so? I haven't gone anywhere with him since the middle of July and haven't spoken to him since January 1. FIRST BLOND. It sounds as if the young man is very spoiled. Why should he be angry because you did not break an engagement with your mother? It's very unreasonable of him, and you would do well to let his friendship go.

Read Your Character By Digby Phillips

Playing to the Narrow-Head When you are dealing with a narrowheaded man, either as employer, em-ploye or salesman, remember that a narrow head does not necessarily mean a narrow mind. But there are certain things it does mean that are well to keep in mind.

and thought he had never any light up every feature, and her lips.

A dress is not nearly so limited in its party would excuse you, old man, and a corsage. Thus, the lovely sould excuse you, old man, and it of the fact that this is party would excuse you, old man, and it of the fact that this is party would excuse you, old man, and it of the fact that this is party would excuse you, old man, and it is a cloud. For whereas the latter is permitted only a silver ling, and a corsage. Thus, the lovely solve almost to a whisper, but across table Carl had overheard.

Nothing but the fact that this is party would excuse you, old man, and the solve the fact that the solve the fact that the solve to be a solved to be a solve the fact that this is party would excuse you, old man, and the solve the fact that this is party would excuse you, old man, and the solve the fact that this is party would excuse you, old man, and the solve the fact that this is party would excuse you, old man, and the solve the fact that the solve the fact that this is party would excuse you, old man, and the solve the fact that this is party would excuse you, old man, and the solve the fact that the solve the fact that the fact that

HOW TO KEEP YOUR OWN HAIR

"Why Hairs Leave Home" is the subject of the helpful talk given below. We all envy the girl who has beautiful hair like this, and we want to know how to get it

The stands up for Flappers

Dear Cynthia—This is my first apearance in your column, although I ave been an interested reader for some time. What is causing me to write now the stands up for the stands of the stan of the hair." says Dr. Hubbard, in substance. "The blood is the stream foods, and fruit acids. Do some defi-that nourishes the scalp, and anything nite, systematic exercise daily for the that nourishes the scalp, and anything that interferes with the normal feeding of the hair by the blood stream may cause one of the great variety of hair troubles and early thinning. The the hair brush, the finest implement digestion and the nervous system must of scalp massage yet manufactured. digestion and the nervous system must be kept in good shape to prolong the life and health of hair."

Life mair brush, the finest implement of scalp massage yet manufactured. Keep the scalp clean by shampoos and the daily brushings

You must agree perfectly on this, if you just stop a moment to consider that your particular hair loss has been accompanied by some upsetting of the digestive apparatus and some phase of cleanses and massages at one and the reglected health. During every sickness of any duration at all the hair sickens and falls out.

Days when you have not been confined to bed, but have felt low in spirits

Washing keeps the hair follicles fined to bed, but have felt low in spirits and in energy, your hair was luster-less, lifeless and hard to dress, wasn't from becoming stopped up and removes excessive deposits of the oil secreted by the oil glands. The brushing distributes the oil throughout the hair and gives Most of us believe when hair trou-tles confront us that local measures of sirable.

correction are sufficient to the recovery Dear Cynthia—New Year's Eve a year ago I met'a young man at a party. He is very attractive and an awfully good dancer. I didn't like him at first and we always had "eight rounds" overy time we met. But that feeling gradually wore off and the beginning of February we off and the beginning of February we off and the construction of the second to go around together. ficient and lasting remedies are diet culation and nervou regulation, training the organs to a not starve hairs and expect them to re-regular routine of habit and physical exercises to strengthen the abdominal muscles and increase their activities. Drinking water, six glasses a day at brush or the shampoo.

The Woman's Exchange

About the Complexion

When your hair is dirty, feels dirty, wash it! The scalp and hair must be kept clean.

If it is oily it requires more frequent washing because oily hair absorbs dust and grime more readily than dry hair. Worry will cause hair loss simply because worry affects the digestion, cir-benefit of the digestive organs and the blood.

the daily brushings.
You cannot allow the sweat glands

Adventures With a Purse Do YOU like good pictures? Really A Little Pet Dog

To the Editor of Woman's Page:

Dear Madam—I have a cunning little tan and white fox terrier that I would like to find a good home for. She is a young dog, very clean and very fond of children. I am sure any one won gives her a home would grow to love her just as we do in our family. Can you help me find a good place for her?

MRS. M. W.

I am only afraid you will be overshe is coming to be known for them, and people from all over the city seek her when they want to buy Holbeins. Well, she has selected twenty of her lithographs, and has made a special price of $1 each for them. In addition to these she has a quantity of colored Holbeins ranging from $3 to $15. I am only afraid you will be over-whelmed with the letters that come in asking for this little dog. The readers of the column just love dogs and any offer of one is always accepted with enthusiasm. I have your name and address and will send you the letters as soon as they begin to come in. Many of them are imported and have come into the country free of duty, which will tell you if you know any-thing of such matters that they are indeed real old prints. I certainly would like to have you stop and see

Dear Madam—Would you kindly answer my questions through your valuable column? What will make the face thinner? I have been on a diet for some time, but it doesn't help any. It makes me appear very conspicuous. Also does drinking hot water help the complexion?

A READER. One of our most authentic fashion magazines showed in a recent issue the new bracelets that are very popular in New York. They are narrow black bands made of elephant's hair. My first thought when I heard about them A READER.

If diet does not help you, combine some regular exercise in a gymnasium or at home with it and reduce yourself all over. Hot water helps the complexion if its blemishes come from indigestion, as the water helps the indigestion, as the water helps the indigestion, but otherwise it would not have much effect upon it. Keeping up the general health by cating good, wholesome food, getting plenty of outdoor air and exercise and sleep and drinking lots of water, not necessarily hot.

A READER.

In they are narrow black though the about them was that elephants have hide, not hair. These, I, understand, are made from the tail. They are bound with narrow strips of gold, and although higher priced in New York are for sale at a shop here for $5. You can but them with a little real ivory elephant as a bangle, in which case the price is $7. These bracelets are Paris importations, and are very well liked.

How Many Times a Foolish Wife Can Ruin a Man's Business Hopes

With Her Constant Nagging for a Raise, With Her Interference and With Her Airy Manner She Makes His Employers Dismiss Him

EVERYBODY in the office liked the drawn out if jealousy is their cause, or contempt their excuse.

He was a good-natured, genial person, rather easy-going perhaps, but sincere and honest in his efforts to make And not in the least afraid of hard

And not in the least afraid of hard work.

He was making good, too.

But then Violet got on the job.

Violet was his wife, a lady with a thin, tightly drawn in, neatly rouged lip. Violet would call him up in the middle of the morning to inquire whether he had asked for that raise; well, was he going to do it, well, when?

Of course, the poor man couldn't say very much right there in the office, but the 'force' could imagine from his agonized, perspiring answers that he wasn't having a very good time.

Then she began coming into the office.

She wanted to meet all his business associates—and incidentally impress upon them what a fine man he was.

And there came a time when she actually asked the big boss when he was going to give Alexander that raise.

So, of course, when the time came for cutting down expenses and retrenching and all that. Alexander was one of the first to be sent away.

Not that he wasn't a good man, but that it was a splendid excuse to get rid of Violet.

LTOW many wives there are who ruin

HOW many wives there are who ruin their husband's chances for suc-cess in this way! A man starts out with high hopes and a new wife in a small town, where, as superintendent, or chief engineer, or general manager or foreman plant or other, he expects to make a big

If he has the right kind of helpful wife he can do it.

He can rise and be raised as high as his ability and his efforts will take him. But if he has either of two other kinds to make good.

The one kind is like Violet.
She interferes in the work, keeps interrupting her husband all the time, intrudes herself until she is better known about the place than her long and hard suffering husband. And then the other kind is the one who does her work with the wives

CHE poses as a great lady in her own

Any aftempt at friendliness on the part of the other women meets with frigidly gracious condescension on her The basic rules attended to, consider part, while she strives to give the im-pression that her husband is so much finer and better than theirs, that it really is extremely gracious of her to Now that isn't going to do that husband any good.

It's just going to make those wives jealous or angry, so that they will talk about the new people to their hus-bands and stir up feeling against them. A man has to listen to mplaints, even about a man in his em-and keep up long enough.

And they are both bitter and long

Novelty

Our old-fashioned Nosegays are made up of plain candies in beautiful soft colors, with a lace-paper border and silver wrapped stems. A charming novelty in a gaily decorated box.

75c to $3.50 each

Special this week: Huylerpops

5 reasons why mothers buy HICKORY waists and garters for boys and girls

1. Tailored of high grade materials to insure long wear. Wash wonderfully.

2. Each garment FITS PERFECTLY. Athletic cut arm holes eliminate bulging or binding. All sizes 2 to 14. 3. Scientifically constructed to supply the support, comfort and security growing children require.

4. Patent rust-proof pin-tube attachment prevents garter pin from slipping, bending or breaking. Buttons are genuine unbreakable bone-stoutly taped on to endure endless tubbing. 50c and up with-75c and up with In the Notions, Boys or Infants Departments. If not, please write us. Complete satisfaction assured or your money back

A. STEIN & COMPANY
Makers of PARIS GARTERS for Mea
CHICAGO NEW YORK

TN MANY cases it is up to the wife to make good instead of the husband although she never goes near the place where he works.

Diplomacy, tact, discretion, yes, and valor, are vitally necessary parts of her equipment.

And how many times does she remember to take them along?

Suggestion No. 6

from the Ice Box "I'm the most popular little piece of furniture in the house. Night and day they come to me for a visit and seem to go away refreshed. I keep all the family's food supply from spolling. Just keep me filled with ICE and I will do the rest."

Yours for health, R. E. Frigerator

YOUR TEAPOT-

will demonstrate why

HAS NO EQUAL

Largest sale in America.

"Every day for the health that's in them"

Your body needs what prunes supply. That is your real reason for eating them. Another reason is that Sunsweet Prunes can be prepared so tastefully as to become the most /fayored fruit on your/table

> For example, Prune Charlotte: Cooked Suneweet Prunes, pitted and rubbed through coarse sieve, having 1 cup prune pulp. Add & tempoon cinna-mon; 1 unbeaten white of egg; 1/2 cup sugar. Beat with whip egg beater until consistency of whipped cream. Fill individual dishes two-thirds full and pile sweetened whipped cream on top. Garnish with a cherry. Send for Recipe Packet. California Prune and Apricot Growers Inc., San Jose, Cal.

SUNSWEET

PRUNES

Which Should Come First?

When one buys meat, what should be the first consideration—quality or price? We believe that Quality should come first, for a piece of meat that is not sweet, tender, wholesome, full of rich nutrition, is expensive at any price.

We know the high quality of every pound of meat sold over our counters—our low prices are due to our policy of "a great many sales at a small profit."

Specials for Tuesday

In Our 207 Meat Markets

Milk-F	ed (Country	y Vea	1
	15c	Neck			16c
Shoulders 16	18c	Rack	Chops	Ь	22c
Rib Chops Loin		Chops Qc lb	Cutlets 48c lb

Milk-Fed Resulting Chickens 16 35c

Lean Salt Pork, lb 17c

Native Beef Thick Rib Roast Ib 16c Finest Standing Rib Roast 525c | Fresh Liver 16 10c

Asco Meat Markets all over Philadelphia and in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware

ASCO

ASCO